

Gary Rappeport
CEO and Principal
Far Horizons Capital

Gary Rappeport is CEO and Principal of Far Horizons Capital, a family office created in 2013 located in Lake Forest, IL. Far Horizons is focused on sourcing creative investment alternatives that provide for long-term growth potential while having lower relative risk in their respective asset class.

In 2012, Gary retired from a 27 year career in fleet leasing and management at Donlen Corporation where he served as Donlen's CEO since 1997. Under his leadership, Donlen experienced industry-leading growth by providing corporations innovative solutions to finance and manage their fleets of cars, trucks and equipment. He built a corporate culture around employee engagement and satisfaction and Donlen won numerous awards for its workplace environment and innovative technology. Gary spearheaded several initiatives and partnerships to reduce emissions from commercial fleets and Donlen was widely recognized for its leadership and commitment to sustainability.

Mr. Rappeport is actively engaged in philanthropic efforts around environmental sustainability and education and is currently Chair of the Dean's Advisory Board at the Wisconsin School of Business at UW-Madison. He holds a bachelors degree in finance from the University of Florida and an MBA from UW-Madison. He and his wife and two teenagers reside in Lake Forest, IL.